What our Graduates Say...

FAYE YEW
Cohort-1

Before I joined this program I was an introvert and lack of confidence. Even have no ideas on how to improve my skillset. This program really helps me to upskill and stay competitive. Besides the learning platform, there are lots of webinars and Master Classes. Good things we must share, if you are unemployed do sign up.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

During the course of my tenure in a senior position at a local university, we did engage LTT Global to be our partner in a number of projects with clients of the university especially in the areas of courseware development and systems development for online delivery. LTT Global has the capacity and commitment for timely development and meeting the standards set. Their flexible approach and being very professional in their work has helped the university in timely project completions. Therefore it is not surprising that LTT Global has been recognised locally and abroad which can be seen from the multiple awards they received through the years !
